

Name: Kari L. Greenaway

One sentence that describes me and my writing: His mercy shapes me and my writing.

Brief bio: My MH diagnosis doesn't define me, Jesus does. I've a dog and two cats. I laugh A LOT! (But cry more.) In 2016, I started with Poetry then children's. WIP's: A novel, Bible Study and revisions for three poetry collections. When not writing, I cook, play with my pets, read, Bible study, and study Hebrew and French.

Why I write: "Words I've loved since when a child, God took that love and tamed my wild." ~Kari (During the first 14 years of my diagnosis, all I read was my Bible.) So, now that He gave me a "voice," in 12/2015, I haven't looked back.

I write:

Fiction: ___short stories books

Genres: Faith-based (Christian)

Nonfiction: ___articles ___personal experience stories devotions books

Genres: Faith-based (Christian) and Children's (Reference & Picture Books)

Other: poetry ___scripts

My audience: Christians general public women ___men teens children

I'm currently working on: A novel. A seven-year-old girl, Little k, learns lessons from Jesus. (Yes, that one.) The setting is contemporary and Little k has her own ideas on definitions of words. Her and Jesus' story has humor and twists. There's a world outside the world she knows. And it's going to take the delicate hand of the Master to connect her with it.

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is: A joy for me is looking back over my writing life and seeing how dynamic it's been. More fluid than stationary. I struggle with understanding "proper," structure.

I'd like to meet writers who: Love Jesus & Don't mind thinking out of the box, especially when it comes to storytelling.

I belong to a writers' group that is open to new members.

I would like to find a writers' group.
