

Name: Cheryl Weber

One sentence that describes me and my writing: my mission statement as a writer is: To communicate life-changing truths from God's Word through creative writing, including stories, and to teach others to do the same.

Brief bio: Cheryl Weber is based in beautiful Lancaster County, PA but has traveled to more than a dozen different countries as a missionary with Youth With A Mission including Kona, Hawaii where she has staffed their School of Writing. She has used her gift of writing in many other capacities in the past thirty years and loves to write devotionals, humor, inspirational fiction and has an idea for a series of children's books ready to germinate.

Why I write: God has called me very specifically to be a storyteller.

I write:

Fiction: ___ short stories ___X_ books

Genres:

Nonfiction: ___X_ articles ___X_ personal experience stories ___X_ devotions ___ books

Genres: Allegorical/fantasy

Other: ___ poetry ___ scripts

My audience ___X_ Christians ___ general public ___X_ women ___ men ___ teens ___X_ children

I'm currently working on: The second book of a series of four allegorical/fantasy novels of the Children of Elohim Series

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is: My joy is just plain getting to write and teaching others how to do it. My biggest struggle is not having enough time to write and not knowing how to get into a full-time writing ministry.

I'd like to meet writers who: Are experienced, published fiction writers

___X_ I belong to a writers' group that is open to new members.

___ I would like to find a writers' group.
