Name: David Hauk

One sentence that describes me and my writing:

I like to read the Bible and write about what I've read.

Brief bio: What is there to say about a bald, middle-aged man who isn't quite sure what he wants to do when he grows up? And that drives my wife nuts. But two things I have always been passionate about are Bible study and writing. So it made sense to combine them—read the Bible and write about what I read. Since God is so much a part of who I am it is hard not to make God a part of my writing. The good thing is, God created me with a wacky sense of humor—another thing that drives my wife nuts—which I try to inject into my writing whenever I can. Writer of stories, books, devotionals, prayers, sermons, and personal essays.

Why I write: To spread the message of God's grace and Jesus's love.

I write:

Fiction: ___short stories ___books

Genres:

Nonfiction: ___articles __x_personal experience stories __x_devotions __x_books

Genres: narrative nonfiction

Other: ___poetry ___scripts

My audience __x_Christians __x_general public ___women ___men ___teens ___children

I'm currently working on: The Genes of Jesus, a book about the surprising ancestors of Jesus

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is: Greatest joy is reading God's Word and writing about the amazing God who wrote it. I struggle to find time to write with my full-time job and family taking up the majority of my time. And I struggle to persevere and not give up. So many people want to be a writer these days and it is hard to not get discouraged because of the competition.
