

What to Do Now?

Worksheet

Now that you've finished these sessions, think about the next steps toward a writing life. What will you do now?

1. During these sessions, did the Spirit possibly speak to you about writing? If so, what did He say? How will you respond?

2. In regard to writing, what revelations or information especially caught your attention? Why? How do you feel about this? Anything you need to do in response?

3. Look at your writing plan. What is one project you could begin when you return home? What would be the first step?

4. How do you need to focus your life to complete this project? What practical steps will you take?

5. What questions do you still harbor about writing? How can you find the answers?

6. What Scripture can guide and motivate you as a writer? Write it out.

7. Write a prayer to God about your future as a writer.
