

Name: Donna DeLoretto Brennan

One sentence that describes me and my writing:

I write humorous and touching women's fiction to encourage and entertain others.

Brief bio:

Donna DeLoretto Brennan was a technical writer for ten years, but she always wanted to write fiction. When her youngest two were still preschoolers, she started writing (and publishing!) short pieces about parenting. Soon she added longer articles and short stories to the list of work she was getting published. She has self-published a collection of short stories and has written two novels and a novelette that are "almost" ready to publish; she just needs to get her email list stuff figured out first.

Why I write: For the joy of writing and to share the workings of my imagination with others.

I write:

X Fiction: short stories books

Genres: Womens fiction

X Nonfiction: articles personal experience stories devotions books

Genres:

Other: poetry scripts

My audience Christians general public women men teens children

I'm currently working on:

Setting up my email list, and then publishing the two novels and one novelette I have "almost" ready to go.

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is:

My greatest struggle is making the time to write; my greatest joy is when I'm actually writing—I don't want to stop.

I'd like to meet writers who:

Are working on marketing their books, especially those working on building their email lists or using promotions.

I belong to a writers' group that is open to new members.

I would like to find a writers' group.

Email Address: dbrennan@epix.net

Website: degunkinglife.com (haven't done anything with it in a few years)

Blog:

City & State (or Country): Pennsylvania

I'm not yet published I've been published in periodicals

I have published one or more books

See Book Gallery for my latest book. (if I have time to get the front matter finished and get it up on KDP before the conference)

Title and genre: A Different Kind of Something; women's fiction

Save as a ONE PAGE Word doc or PDF.