Name: Tori Aul

One sentence that describes me and my writing:

I write fun children's stories.

Brief bio: I am a wife and homeschooling mom to two children. We also have two cats, one of which likes to help me write. My background is in science. My first published work was a book on edible science experiments.

Why I write:

I write:

Fiction:  short stories  books

Genres: picture books, middle grade

Nonfiction:  articles  personal experience stories  devotions  books

Genres: devotions, science

Other:  poetry  scripts

My audience  Christians  general public  women  men  teens  children

I'm currently working on:

I have several projects I would like to eventually find a home for. I have an alliterative alphabet series (picture book), a middle grade cat mystery series (two stories so far), a middle grade fantasy novel (also plans for a series), and food-themed devotionals/object lessons that could be articles or a book.

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is:

Joy-I enjoy writing fun stories and devotions

Struggle-Being a busy homeschool mom, it's hard to find a lot of time to write. I also struggle (a lot) with marketing.

I'd like to meet writers who: write for children, write fantasy, or someone who does illustrations for children's books

I belong to a writers' group that is open to new members.

I would like to find a writers' group.
