Name: Jeremy Vance

One sentence that describes me and my writing: I write fiction to encourage struggling Christians, people wrestling with forgiveness or doubt or other spiritual needs.

Brief bio:

Having enjoyed writing papers in school, I tried writing fiction and discovered I enjoyed writing it just as much. I've been writing now for five years and appreciate learning this craft. I live in Minnesota with my amazing wife and three wonderful children.

Why I write: To point hurting people to Jesus through fiction.

I write:

Fiction:  short stories  books

Genres: Children's science fiction story and contemporary Christian fiction novels.

Nonfiction:  articles  personal experience stories  devotions  books

Genres:

Other:  poetry  scripts

My audience  Christians  general public  women  men  teens  children

I'm currently working on: I'm on the second editing pass of my contemporary Christian novel "A Father's Shadow."

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is: My greatest joy is using my imagination to work with God in delivering hope and freedom to fellow believers. I struggle with creating a unique voice for my 1st person POV MC's.

I'd like to meet writers who: (I belong to ACFW but the writing group in my state is populated by all women. I'm looking for a group that has at least one or more men.)

I belong to a writers group that is open to new members.

I would like to find a writers group.
