Name: Sharon Wilhite

One sentence that describes me and my writing:

Insanity: doing the same thing (nothing) and expecting different results.

Brief bio: I am a 62 year old mother of seven, wife of one, grandma of 5.

I have written for most of my life whether for school teachers, school newspaper, our local city newspaper, poems to express myself, puppet plays for church, ladies Bible studies in our church, and multitudes of children's stories that never go anywhere beyond my family. I am a fairly new pastor's wife of almost 8 years now. I want so much to hear God's "Well Done..." and know that I didn't bury/hide the talents with which He has entrusted me.

Why I write: I have to get my ideas down on paper! I have felt that way since 5th grade. I truly want to see one of my stories published and enjoyed by children everywhere.

I write:

Fiction: ___short stories ___x_books

Genres:

Nonfiction: ___x_articles ___personal experience stories ___devotions ___books

Genres:

Other: ___x_poetry ___scripts

My audience ___x_Christians ___general public ___women ___men ___teens ___x_children

I'm currently working on: A series of books for young girls

A Biblical fiction book for young women

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is: Struggles: Doing something with it after I'm finished writing.

Joy: Putting words to paper

Knowing the next step to take in the process.

The Creative process

I'd like to meet writers who: Are on the same journey writing for children published or unpublished
