Name: Dale Witkowski

One sentence that describes me and my writing:

I am an observer of God's creation, a student of His Word, and an overcomer of many trails which I put into prose, poetry, and story.

Brief bio:

I am 77, an artist & former art teacher, and a lay pastor who enjoys all things creative and math puzzles. I paint both canvas and anything my home needs. Cook books line my bookshelf and are used for planning and creating meals for myself and two adult children who live with me. They have some special needs. Two adult children who live on their own are professional musicians. I also have two babies and one grandbaby in heaven. My yard and plants, singing, and swimming are joys for me, but supreme is being a prayer warrior and leading other prayer warriors.

Why I write:

I write:

Fiction:  short stories  books

Genres:

Nonfiction:  articles  personal experience stories  devotions  books

Genres:

Other:  poetry  scripts

My audience  Christians  general public  women  men  teens  children

I'm currently working on:

Fiction book, memoir, articles, devotions, poetry

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is:

Putting in the time and organizing what I have already done

I'd like to meet writers who:

Are honest coupled with kindness – I have many demands on my time

I belong to a writers' group that is open to new members.

I would like to find a writers' group.
